EXPERTISE

- Construction
- Public procurement
- Dispute resolution

PROFILE

For more than 10 years, Jacob Allon has advised and assisted private businesses and public sector companies in matters primarily related to large-scale legal disputes within various areas of law, including construction law and professional liability.

Jacob has considerable experience in managing and conducting large-scale complex court cases and arbitral proceedings in close collaboration with the legal and technical staff of clients. He always aims to achieve the outcome that is best for the client, whether it be a settlement, a final court judgment or an arbitral award. Jacob is also highly experienced in conducting negotiations and making settlements. In connection with his dispute resolution work, Jacob has participated in major expert appraisal cases, and has assisted several of the largest Danish companies in complex arbitral proceedings involving claims in excess of DKK 1 billion, including construction cases.

In addition to his work within dispute resolution, Jacob advises public authorities, public-sector companies and private businesses on existing as well as future contractual relationships.

Jacob speaks the Scandinavian languages and English.
